

Lesson 10

THE FARMER AND THE STORK

from THE AESOP FOR CHILDREN by Milo Winter

A Stork of a very simple and trusting nature had been asked by a gay party of Cranes to visit a field that had been newly planted. But the party ended dismally with all the birds entangled in the meshes of the Farmer's net.

The Stork begged the Farmer to spare him.

"Please let me go," he pleaded. "I belong to the Stork family who you know are honest and birds of good character. Besides, I did not know the Cranes were going to steal."

"You may be a very good bird," answered the Farmer, "but I caught you with the thieving Cranes and you will have to share the same punishment with them."

You are judged by the company you keep.

Lesson 10.1

Prose & Poetry

A LOOK AT LITERARY ELEMENTS IN THE FABLE

1

Read the fable.

- ◆ Listen carefully as your teacher reads "The Farmer and the Stork."
- ◆ Tell the meaning of these words: dismally, entangled, meshes, spare, character, thieving.

2 Talk About the fable.

- ◆ Who are the main characters in this fable?
- ◆ What is the main conflict or problem for these characters? What do the characters say or think?
- ◆ How is the conflict resolved?

3 Think About the fable's message.

- ◆ What is the moral of the fable?
- ◆ Discuss this alternate version of the moral with your teacher:

Birds of a feather flock together.

4 Delight in the fable.

- ◆ What do you like best about this fable?
- ◆ Read the fable to your teacher. Read with expression and pause at punctuation marks.

5 Connect the thoughts.

- ◆ Have you or someone you know ever been judged by the company you keep? Tell the story.
- ◆ A proverb or a maxim is a short, clever statement that expresses a general truth or a rule of conduct. In the Bible, King Solomon addresses the importance of choosing companions wisely:

He that walketh with wise men shall be wise: but a companion of fools shall be destroyed. ~ Proverbs 13:20

- ◆ Copy Proverbs 13:20 into your copybook.

THE VERB, PART 1

Verb

shows action, being, or state

An action verb in a sentence will tell what the subject of the sentence is doing. The action can be physical or mental:

I run. I sing. I race. I play. I beg. I ride. I think. I love. I believe. I guess.

Verbs can also show being or state:

I am a girl. I am your friend. I was ill. I sleep. I stand. I suffer.

Double underline the verb in each sentence below.

1. The Stork and the Cranes visited the field.
2. The party ended dismally.
3. The net entangled the birds.
4. The Stork begged the farmer.
5. I am a Stork.
6. Storks are honest birds of good character.
7. I caught you with the Cranes.

Discuss with your teacher whether each verb you marked shows action, being, or state.

Add the Verb flashcard behind the Daily tab in your review system box. Move everything else back one tab.

FABLE OUTLINE

- ☉ In your Writer's Journal, write a short outline to capture the plot (sequence of actions) of this fable. For each action in the story, write a few words or phrases.
- ☉ Narrate the fable to your teacher. Use your outline if needed.

thieving

A. WORD	B. SPELLING/PHONICS ANALYSIS	C. RELATED WORDS judged company

A Read the word aloud. Locate it in the selection.

B Spelling/Phonics Analysis - divide the words into syllables and analyze them.

C In the Related Words column, write words that are related to the spelling word as follows:

simple	Write another word that ends with a silent e so that every syllable in the word has a written vowel
field	Write another word that uses the ie phonogram to say /ē/
spare	Write another word that ends with a silent e to make the vowel say its name thieving	Write the base word for thieving judged	Write another word that uses the phonogram dge
company	Write the plural form of company

The phonogram ie usually says /ē/, as we see in both of this week's spelling words with this phonogram. Remember this helpful rule: Use i before e, except after c, or when it says /ā/ as in neighbor. There are a few exceptions to this rule.

Let's look at some more words that use the phonogram ie. Write a word that uses the ie phonogram for each of the definitions below.

_____ A piece of armor usually worn on the left arm

_____ Deep sorrow over loss or affliction

_____ A portion or part of a whole

_____ An implement for straining liquids

_____ Lasting a short time; of short duration

_____ Wild, savage, or hostile

_____ A chum or comrade

_____ The daughter of your sister or brother

THE VERB, PART 2

Often, two verbs will work together in a sentence to form a verb phrase that shows action, being, or state. A helping verb will be paired with a main verb. Memorize the list of helping verbs so that you can easily recognize them.

Helping Verbs

Forms of be: am, is, are, were, was, be, being, been

3 D's: do, does, did

3 H's: have, has, had

3 M's: may, might, must

3 doubles: can-could, shall-should, will-would

- 🌿 Add the Helping Verbs flashcard behind the Daily tab in your review system box.
- 🌿 Double underline the verb phrases in each of the following sentences (the main verb plus its helping verb).

1. The Stork and the Cranes were visiting the field.
2. The party did end dismally.

3. The net had entangled the birds.
4. The Stork was begging the farmer.
5. I have caught you with the Cranes.
6. You will share the punishment of the Cranes.
7. You are judged by the company you keep.

EDITOR'S PEN: BIG PICTURE

If you have not completed your retelling, complete it now.

Read your fable retelling with your teacher, then use the checklist below for your first edit.
Note any changes you need to make.

- ✓ Did you include all important actions and details?
- ✓ Is the sequence of actions the same as the original?
- ✓ Did you include a heading, properly formatted?

SUBJECTS & PREDICATES

Subject

tells who or what the sentence is about

Predicate

tells what the subject is or does

🌿 Add the Subject and Predicate flashcards behind the Daily tab in your review system box.

Study these sentences.

The Ant stored up food. The Grasshopper played his fiddle.

In the first sentence, the subject Ant tells who the sentence is about. The predicate stored up food tells what the subject (Ant) did. In the second sentence, the subject Grasshopper tells who the sentence is about. The predicate played his fiddle tells what the subject (Grasshopper) did.

🌿 In these sentences, draw a vertical line between the subject and the predicate of each sentence. Then single underline the noun in the subject, and double underline the verb or verb phrase in the predicate.

Example: The Stork | visited the field.

1. The Cranes invited the simple Stork.

2. The field had been planted.
3. The party ended dismally.
4. The net had entangled the birds.
5. The Stork was begging the farmer.
6. The Stork may be a fine bird.
7. The Farmer had caught the Stork with the Cranes.
8. The Stork will share the punishment of the Cranes.
9. People are judged by the company they keep.
10. Aesop's fables teach helpful morals.

Eloquent Expression

SENTENCE MAKING

Use as many of the spelling words from Lesson 10.2 as you can to write one interrogative sentence and one imperative sentence.

EDITOR'S PEN: FINE FOCUS

 Read your fable retelling with your teacher once more. Edit it further, using the checklist below. New items on the checklist are noted in bold type. Note any changes you need to make.

- ✓ Did you add dialogue? Did you properly punctuate direct quotations?
- ✓ Should you change one of your dialogue tags to add extra emphasis? Remember you can do this either by using a synonym for said, or by adding some action or description.
- ✓ Should you vary any of the repeated nouns in your retelling? Are there any nouns you can make more descriptive?
- ✓ Should you change one of your sentences from declarative to a different classification?
- ✓ Does each of your sentences begin with a capital letter, end with end punctuation, and express a complete thought?
- ✓ Did you spell each word correctly?
- ✓ Are there any other changes you would like to make?

FROM YOUR READING

Find selections in a book or poem to add to your copybook. Include the name of the book or poem, properly formatted. Label the item with the grammar feature or figure of speech. Aim for a minimum of three copybook additions, with at least one from each category. The required items for this lesson are noted in bold.

Grammar Feature

- ♦ A sentence that has an interesting or descriptive noun
- ♦ An interesting dialogue tag (add to your Dialogue Tags list)
- ♦ A declarative, interrogative, exclamatory, or imperative sentence

- ♦ A simile (look for the words like, as, or than, but make sure it follows the two rules for a simile - see Lesson 9.2)

Language Logic

DICTIONATION: FABLE

- ◉ Write the selection from your teacher's dictation in your Writer's Journal. Write neatly and include proper capitalization and end punctuation.
- ◉ When you are done, check your work carefully, word by word, against the original. Check for accurate spelling, capitalization, and punctuation.

WORDS & SENTENCES

- ◉ Identify following in the fable "The Farmer and the Stork":
 - ♦ classification of each sentence in the fable with your teacher.
 - ♦ any quotations in the fable; for each, note the dialogue tag and its position.
- ◉ Put a box around every noun in the fable below. Above each noun, write C if the noun is a common noun, and P if it is a proper noun. Discuss with your teacher whether each noun names a person, place, thing, or idea.

A Stork of a very simple and trusting nature had been asked by a gay party of Cranes to visit a field that had been newly planted. But the party ended dismally with all the birds entangled in the meshes of the Farmer's net.

The Stork begged the Farmer to spare him.

"Please let me go," he pleaded. "I belong to the Stork family who you know are honest and birds of good character. Besides, I did not know the Cranes were going to steal."
